

Beth Deen email

PharmD, BCNSP, BCPPS

Senior clinical pharmacy specialist, nutrition support and PGY1 residency program director

Tenure at Cook Children's: 1996

Residency rotations: PGY1: Nutrition and residency coordinator; PGY2: Nutrition/parenteral nutrition staffing

Education: B.S. University of Iowa, PharmD University of Texas

Postgraduate training: Pediatric pharmacotherapy residency at Le Bonheur Children's Medical Center, The University of Tennessee

Get to know Beth Deen

Areas of interest, research and professional involvement: I provide daily parenteral nutrition consults to the Neonatal Intensive Care Unit, the gastroenterology service and throughout the medical center upon request. I enjoy mentoring young pharmacists and enjoy serving in this role with our PGY1s as their residency director.

More about me: I'm married and have four teenagers/young adults and two dogs, which keeps our house very busy. I'm a morning person and love to exercise – yoga, running or spinning on my Peloton! When I can get away, I love to travel (with and without the kids).